1-abc.net Right Click Configurator is a useful utility that can help you easily edit the system context menu, by adding or removing entries from the list. When you use Windows Explorer for opening, deleting, moving or copying files (e.g. by executing it through the "My Computer" icon on your desktop) a popup menu is opened by clicking the right mouse button on any entry, that allows you to get access to many different programs and features. If your last Windows installation was a long time ago and you installed and uninstalled several products since then, you probably recognized that sometimes you have much more right click entries and features than you need. In the worst case, this right click menu does not work anymore, because there are still software tools and utilities that keep these entries alive even if the program was removed from your system long ago. Configuring these entries can now be done easily with 1-abc.net Right Click Configurator. The easy-to-use interface allows you to see all these connections to Windows features and external programs. De-activating such an entry is just one click away. You can also modify or remove it completely, which should be done with the highest caution, of course. Furthermore, you can add your personal right click entries by typing a name for it and selecting the path to an executable file you want to start from. You can also add any customized command line that Windows would understand in the "Start"-"Run" dialog. Moreover, you can take one of the default features that are already available on your system but can normally not be started from the right click menu. 1-abc.net Right Click Configurator 1.0 Alpha Platform: Windows 2000,XP,Vista,2003,2008 Language: English Features: - Add entries to the Windows right click menu - Add entries to the "Run" menu - Add entries to the address bar / search bar - Add new entries to the "My Computer" context menu - Add a new context menu entry - Help to remove entries from the Windows right click menu - Help to remove entries from the Windows "Run" menu - Help to remove entries from the Windows address bar / search bar - Help to remove entries from the context menu of the "My Computer" icon - Help to remove entries from the Windows context menu - Help to remove items from the Windows "My Computer" context menu - Help to remove b7e8fdf5c8
