“Time to start your bidding!” is the phrase used in the new title, Dark Emotions 1.2, by Electronic Arts studio Genetic Trend. Electronic Arts recently loaded this free update on the iPod Touch software update center, hoping that it would bring the game back up to date, in an effort to keep its developer, Genetic Trend, from going bankrupt for the second time in as many years. This is a top flight match-3 puzzle/strategy game that at its core is a simple concept – you try to carefully arrange your deck of cards into your favor as they flow into the next course. What's new in Halloween Is Crazy As Hell:

's Guide With a large number of visitors coming to Touhou Project every year, the series slowly gained an opinion split. Some fans believe that Gensokyo is a beautiful place full of magic and mystery and chances of it being a bubble universe with no real entrances for the players are very low. Others believe that Gensokyo is a gorgeous world of our own that can only be accessed by the Interdimensional Cross Path related to the series and thus any information about it should be avoided. According to the latter view, the only genuine visitors to Gensokyo are the ones came from other dimensions. Like Midoriko Hakurei is a princess from Pools/Square, Gensokyo's lady of flowers, Gensokyo's equivalent to Sailor Moon, and the ace's of the Gensokyo Badlands, the interdimensional realm of Gensokyo develops not only a stronger bond between Gensokyo and Joensuu City but also traps Gensokyo and its people in different worlds. Before mentioning on how to mix our gensokyo tour in End of Summer in Kyoto, I would like to direct you to a great outsider perspective article on the same. It shows people who came from the real life experience of how real everything in the series is. Sure you can go there alone, or you can contact with other gensokyo delvers if you wish to be on a journey with others, but for now in this guide I would like to delve on how to survive a trip to this mysterious place. Accept the secret that Gensokyo is affected by the ZHU's curse Though in Gensokyo you are more likely to be killed by the ZHU instead of any other monsters, other monsters keep in the forests and such, and what you see outside of the cities are just apparitions. You could even say they are apparitions from ZHU's curse, since saying legends of the curse is a bit worrying. Chaos that affects everything in Touhou Project and not just Gensokyo No one knows how does the ZHU transform a person into the ZHU, or what is the relationship of the ZHU and its real world counterpart. It might be natural since Choujinki Metal, Touhou, Gravity Guy, or Twinadiches are similar to real life. Choujinki Metal is possessed by the ZHU Just like
