When you start the game, you're given a choice of the Forest Justice System (FJS) or Corporate Justice System (CJS) to start your restaurant career. For FJS, you must work for Ramen, a restaurant with a questionable owner. For the CJS, you work for Burger King and are charged with running a restaurant that stands out from the rest. Unfortunately, its not Burger King's style of place. The game is simple: You open a restaurant in the middle of the forest. If you want to do the FJS, you need to become friends with Ramen, the owner of the restaurant. You will have to do work for him, in return, he will be giving you your freedom. If you want to do the CJS, you need to make sure that Burger King isn't going to notice you (which is a good idea because if Burger King finds out, you will be charged with kidnapping and you'll be locked up for life). At the beginning of the game, you can open a free buffet if you're doing the CJS and can hire up to 4 staff members, including yourself. New Seasons: In the New Seasons area, there is a free buffet that can be opened, which is good for you in the CJS. You will have a lot of demands for ramen as its your job. One of the first things you must do is to choose which kind of ramen you want to serve to your customers. There are five different kinds of ramen: original, classic, matcha, tsukemen and savory. The best way to get more money is to give customers more of their favorite kind of ramen. You will be able to open a free buffet when you reach 7 stars in this restaurant. However, if you want more money and a free buffet, you need to get 10 stars in this area. You can hire up to 6 guests to serve you. There are five sections in the area, which is different from the regular ramen areas. They are: Chef Hire - These are professional chefs who will teach you how to cook in your restaurant. They will give you recipes for better and easier cooking. Japanese Bartender - These are cocktails, beers, and wines that you can cook with. You can combine with your recipes to make some great drinks for your customers. Payroll - Here,
