Feiying Simulator Launcher Update42

realflight is an online fpv racing game based on the popular open source software, from aircraft systems, the creators of pilots enjoy a world of flying adventures and build-your-own aircraft with the help of our custom game system. we bring you a completely new flight experience, delivering an unlimited flying community, a lifelike physics engine, and a completely free to fly experience, with nothing to buy and no hardware to buy. from beginners, to pro pilots, and everything in between, we're bringing our small fpv community together to enjoy all we offer for free. realflight has also implemented a multi-player real time, single player time attack mode for those individuals looking to practice before a big race.. three different game modes: practice, time attack and race. up to 16 opponents to race against (vicam x3, yuneec e-flight, or home made) the game is basically a highly realistic flying experience with working controls that is playable in any linux distro. it's a great addition to the rc scene even if you have your own rc sims because all you have to do is connect your radio and test the controls to get the feel for it. besides the normal user interface, there is also a full customization mode in which you can use buttons on the board to remap them to your own controller. personalise yours with strap monkey - no matter where you fly, be it drones, helicopters or any rc aircraft, you can customise your rc with your monitor strap. design, tweak and record up to 30 monitors at the same time with one controller. you can even upload your custom monitor strap directly from your iphone or ipad to create a ready to fly monitor.
